

Microwave Magic for People Who Cant Boil Water: Easy and Wonderful Recipes You Make in Your Microwave

I love to cook. Some years ago, I grew interested when I started to date my second wife, Debbie. Much of our time together for years was spent cooking wonderful meals for friends and families in our wonderful kitchen in Greenwich Village. Copper and cast iron pots and pans were everywhere. Henkel knives. Waterford china. Beautiful silverware. It was a rotating gourmet feast for one and all. Yet one of my favorite dishes was bluefish over fennel prepared in a microwave. It took less than 15 minutes to prepare from cutting the fennel to putting it on a plate. FABULOUS! So I decided to share some of the good easy to prepare dishes you can make in a microwave knowing you can enjoy them for years! BTW, it should go without saying (but I have to say it) ONLY USE MICROWAVE SAFE DISHES when you cook in a microwave and be careful about a plate being extremely hot when you remove it from the torch. (I have called a microwave the torch since my first one 20 years ago).
